If this statement is true, it is a subject of congratulation that at least no concessions have been yielded un. From all that has been given publicity to in Sir Rutherford's Alcock's despatches, it is to be feared the probability is that the revision has not been so satisfactorily accomplished.

An unfortunate occurrence took place of the landing of H.R.H. the Duke of Edinburgh, which appeals to the sympathies of the community. Two of the sailors on board the U.S.N.S. Iroquois, while firing the salute in his honor, were so seriously injured by an accident, consequent on two of the guns going off sooner than was expected, that each had to have an arm amputated. H.R.H. has been much concerned at this doplorable accident, and has given a handsome donation to the men. It is understood that a subscription list will be shortly circulated: which the residents in Hongkong, with their well known kindliness and liberality, will doubtless be glad to fill up with a sum which may be some consolation to the unforaccident only through their anxiety to show. their readiness to do honour to the Prince. It is hardly necessary to say that they have the heart-left sympathy of all those who have already heard of the disaster.

The momorandum from Mr. Hart to the Hon. J. Ross Disame has called forth very facetious comments in the corthern papers, below these here sens," may be given. The address.
